BEGINNING CTC'S 75TH YEAR...

What a swingin' way to start the school year—a dance! The mixer was sponsored by the Student Senate and was held for the few students who arrived early. Thanking the Lord for bringing them back safely to Concordia, students gathered before the Lord's table at the opening communion service. Freshman and Junior transfer girls met their Big Sisses, who had introduced their Little Sisses to Concordia through letters written during the summer. After all the fun and excitement of the first week of school, students discovered they had to force themselves to settle down and to concentrate on the real purpose of college.

A NEW ST. JOHN'S

Majestic simplicity pervades the design of a new worship center for St. John's congregation and Concordia students. Dedicated on September 15, 1968, the new St. John's Lutheran Church can seat 942 people on the main floor and another 106 in the balcony. The mighty Schlicker pipe organ adds artistic, as well as musical, beauty to the church's atmosphere. CTC's Professor Richard Wiegmann designed the banners; Professor Reinhold Marxhausen designed the glass-stained windows and made the changing murals in the annex and the processional crosses on the altar. The mosiac surfaces on the altar, the pulpit, and the baptismal font, which were created by Professor William Wolfram, developed the themes from the Gospel of St. John on the basis of the Savior's great "I AM" statements.

HOMECOMING-1968

Was it worth it all? To Karen Rubin and her Homecoming committee it was! Working with the theme "Ocean Commotion—World of the Sea" provided all sorts of opportunities to the Committee for the special weekend of October 18-20. The weather cooperated by raining for a week before Homecoming, providing a small ocean for the celebration. Homecoming activities began with the bonfire and pep rally held in the gym this year due to the rain. The Indian's loss of the tug-of-war game to the Bulldogs at the rally proved to be accurate foreshadowing of Saturday's game. Highlight of the night was the announcement of Mr. Football—Howard Voelker. A water ballet show was a special feature of the activities this year. In the wee hours, last minute touches were made on floats for Saturday's parade.

Jeannine Chastonay, Queen Jane Briggeman, Marcia Moehlman.

QUEEN JANE AND HER COURT

After a unique mime depicting an underwater tale, Miss Jane Briggeman, a Junior, was crowned the Homecoming Queen of 1968. Attendants in her court were Seniors Miss Jeannine Chastonay and Miss Marcia Moehlman. The Concordia royalty's reign continued as Jane and Howie Voelker, Mr. Football, were honored in the parade downtown Saturday morning. At the game Saturday afternoon, Bob Riggert, vice president of the Student Senate, presented Jane with a football autographed by the players.

HOMECOMING PARADE

One of the highlights of the weekend was the parade Saturday morning. Recognized for their successful efforts in planning the weekend's activities were Homecoming chairman, Karen Rubin, and her co-chairman, Dennis Hintz. The "World of the Sea" was represented here, too, in the form of the various floats. In the float competition, Seniors took first place, followed by the Freshmen in second place and the third-place Juniors. Reminiscences of the past came to mind as some of the past Football Kings rode in the parade. The cheerleaders "floated" by to lead the pep rally in the town square. Coach Harms, optimistic of the future results of the game, heightened the pep and enthusiasm of Concordians. Adding their bit of support and color to the weekend's activities, Duerr Dorm displays competition with their protected treasure chest.

HOMECOMING VICTORY

Victory characterized Saturday's activities, as the Bulldogs won their Homecoming game from Sioux Falls. Sandy Stone, Club Sweetheart, watched her team massacre the Indians, while the Bulldog mascot led cheers from the field. At halftime the Concordia Drill Team and the Pep Band performed a show based on the theme of "Ocean Commotion." A final highlight to the weekend's activities was the concert performance of The Brothers Four on Saturday evening.

FRESHMAN INITIATION

SOLD! For 50¢? With this encouragement, the Frosh found themselves carrying paper sacks for protection during air raids, eating soup with a knife, and reciting whatever they could remember of the Freshman pledge (I, an adnauseistic amature academician. . . .). Dressed in anything and everything from bunny outfits to track suits, Freshmen trapsed to classes on Dress-Up Day. But it was only after the whole thing was over that they could admit having any fun. "Revenge is ours," saith the Freshmen. "Wait 'til next year!"

FALL ACTIVITIES

Fun, politics, and entertain-ment characterized Concordia's fall activities. Bobbing for apples, going on a treasure hunt, and sharing ghost stories were some of the excitements of Halloween. "What do all of the clubs do? Which organizations should I join?" On Organizational Night, the various clubs on campus set up booths to answer the student's questions. Versatile and talented Concordians entertained their own classmates at the Talent Festival with acts of comedy, singing, and modern dancing. Supporting their favorite candidates in the campaign for the National Election also kept CTC students busy. The climax of the campaign was reached on the night of the elections when students were found sitting in front of the television set in the Campus Center until 2:00 in the morning.

75TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

"Measurable Growth—Immeasurable Grace." This was the theme of the Anniversary Service, held in the P.E. Building on January 7, 1969. Grade school, high school, and college choirs participated in the service. For the service several dorms made banners which represented different aspects of the theme. Rev. Jacob Preuss, President of Concordia Seminary, Springfield, based his sermon on "The Fullness of Grace," thus emphasizing the "Immeasurable Grace" CTC has received during its 75 years in existence.

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals proved to be a great success this year with a variety of activities offered each season. Soccer, new to the intramural scene this fall, was received with much enthusiasm by the boys. Competition during the '68-'69 school year found the junior class with the most points in each league, thus giving them the over-all championship. Voted outstanding athletes were Mark Meschke, senior, and Sandy Haerther, junior.

STUDENT RECITALS

Zest and vigor filled the voices of student vocalists this year as they performed at student recitals. Other student musicans obtained valuable performing experience by displaying their talent on the piano and the organ or with brass instruments or woodwinds. In addition to the group recitals, the especially accomplished musicans presented half-hour individual recitals.

CHRISTMAS

"Look," the "Prince of Peace" is here: this is what banners on the half moon proclaimed. The Christmas Service gave Concordia the chance to partake of communion, which celebrated our Lord Jesus Christ's birth. The sermon was a discussion between four students and Dean Kolb. Other students presented a Reader's Theater, showing the need for Christmas. Singing "Joy to the World," the congregation departed from the chapel by candlelight.

SPIRITUAL LIFE

Sharing Christ in chapel, in St. John's services, at special devotions, at dorm devotions, in the Campus Center, in Weller, in Brommer, in the dorm room, and on Ambassadors for Christ trips—these were some of the opportunities for Concordians to witness and to worship. Professors and special groups, such as the Shorb Brothers, shared their faith with students in informal as well as formal settings. Besides serving as acolytes and ushers, students gave a unique witness of their faith through thought-provoking, inspirational chancel dramas.

LYCEUMS AND CONVOCATIONS

The Olaeta Basque Festival of Bilboa, one of the first lyceums during the year, reflected their culture in folk song and dance, including the "Dagger Dance" and the "Goatskin Dance." Two of the other lyceums were Rainer Lille, a famous German organist, and the Paul Winter Contemporary Consort, who play in an interpretative style music from the Renaissance period to contemporary times. Convocations this year featured many interesting speakers, among whom was Rev. William Griffin of Chicago who discussed questions concerning "Racism in the Church Today."

MID-YEAR ACTIVITIES

Once again infamous standing lines accompanied registration for second semester, but things became more hectic during the week of finals. When the gruesome tests were over, students relaxed by playing cards, visiting the art gallery, goofing off, and catching up on sleep. Snow also provided entertainment as students found themselves literally plowing their way around campus.

DAVID DORM

Mass immigration took place as 292 Concordia men moved into David. The new dorm consists of three floors each having a central area with lounges and color television sets. February 16,1969, marked the dedication of the new building, the first dorm financed primarily by a low interest loan from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development. Rev. Henry W. Niermann, President of the Southern Nebraska District, served as the officiant for the dedication served as the officiant for the dedication service; and Dean Charles Dull gave an appropriate address on "A New Kind of Beginning." President Janzow delivered the Rite of Dedication. After the ceremony, open house was held giving visitors an opportunity to tour the cross-shaped building.

THE YEAR OF SNOW

Foot after foot of sometimes beautiful, yet sometimes treacherous, snow blanketed Concordia's campus, making this a winter that will not soon be forgotten. White mushy sidewalks, stalled cars, snow ball fights, snow elephants, snowmen, snow-packed trees, and the invaluable snow plow will help everyone to remember this was the year of snow.

QUEEN MARGE AND HER COURT

"You've Come a Long Way, Baby," the theme for the 1969 Snow Weekend, coincided with Concordia's 75th Anniversary celebration. The costumes of the eight Snow Queen candidates carried out the theme vividly: The senior candidates were dressed in the styles of 1890; the juniors wore dresses from the Roaring '20's; sophomore candidates depicted the fabulous '40's; and the freshmen wore the "mini's" of the '60's. Nature, too, bestowed a special honor to the 1969 Snow Queen, Miss Marge Heiliger, by providing something for her reign that Snow Weekend has not had for many years—real snow.

STUDENT RECITALS

Excitement, nervousness, and butterflies in the stomach characterize the talented student musicians before their recitals. Second semester, like first semester, was filled with student musical performances, among which were many duets of organ or piano along with woodwinds and brass instruments.

TIME OUT FOR CONCORDIANS

A hard day's work is complete, that test is taken, and that paper is written—these are reasons for well deserved relaxation. And students find various ways of doing just that; whether it is going on a picnic or playing games, singing or just relaxing in a comfortable chair and talking.

CAMPUS SING

Concordia Teachers College was surprised with a birthday cake for its 75th birthday. To add to the celebration, dorms competed in Concordia's first Campus Sing. Original songs and skits were the features of the entertainment. While the judges were deciding the winners, movies were shown, bringing back the life of yesteryear. Winning first place for their entertainment was Esther Dorm in the women's division, and first floor Jesse West took the honors for the men.

ELECTIONWEEKEND

Our CTC "Hustlin' Bulldog", the school's new mascot, with Rick Cash, the M.C., opened the first Concordia Poli-Follies. In the spirit of politics, Dean Mueller and the faculty's "Laugh-In," Luther Klenke as Gladys (?), Professor Marxhausen with his "singing" saw, and several CTC students entertained the Concordian's, as they prepared for the big election weekend. Candidates pursued a rushing but thrilling campaign with its climax on the night of the rally and the elections.

SPRING AND EASTER

"The Way of the Cross" was the path many Concordians followed the night before Easter vacation as they remembered our Lord's death and resurrection. Easter vacation was, for some hundred Concordia students, a most memorable time as they were part of the inner-city SALS project in various major cities of the United States. As students returned to campus they were greeted by the floods. The Plum and Blue were well over their banks, and everyone wondered if nice days would ever come. Soon, however, the weather changed, students went on picnics, and spring fever filled the air.

SPRING WEEKEND

Heralding the coming of Spring, CTC proclaimed April 25-27 as Spring Weekend. Saturday, the official "Do Your Spring Thing" Day, found many Concordians picnicking and relaxing. Performing in concert were the famous Lettermen. Some of our own CTC'ers shared the spotlight with the Lettermen as the Concordians added their talent to the singing of "Kansas City."

CALL SERVICE

Two hundred fifty-eight anxious seniors awaited the receipt of their calls on the afternoon of Friday, May 2, 1969. After President Theophil Janzow preached on "The Grace of Service," Dr. Arnold Erxleben announced the calls. Students were called to many areas, extending from New York to New Guinea. The Call Service gave the seniors their first positions as called ministers of the Gospel and gave all who attended a new sense of the importance of Concordia's mission of training teachers for Christ's service.

PLAYS

Working with different staging effects, the CTC drama enthusiasts experimented with several one act plays which portrayed man in the various stages of his life. The plays were performed on a new platform in the basement of the Music Center. Beginning with "Infancy," the audience had an insight on what really goes on in an infant's mind. The problems and questions young children must face were shown in "No Why." "Princess Rebecca Birnbaum" depicted the awkward years of adolescence. In "Private Ear" three young adults searched for a relationship with one another to fit their own ideals. "The Typist" relates the life of a woman from her early twenties to her sixties and shows how people can get into ruts.

DINNER DANCES

The Freshmen and Sophomores went on a "Spring Fling" May 2, dancing to the sound of the Don Juan band. Transformed into a Spring Garden, the multipurpose room in the Campus Center was adorned with butterflies, caterpillars and flowers. During the hour break a light buffet supper was served and entertainment was provided.

Sponsored by the Junior class, the annual Junior-Senior Dinner Dance was held at the Hotel Lincoln on May 9. Rose centerpieces decorated the ballroom to carry out the theme "Rhapsody in Vienna." The Concordia couples were entertained by Gary Barnes, and danced to the music of Bobby Layne and his Orchestra.

HUNGER HIKE

Sore feet, aching legs, and smiling faces characterized the approximately thousand hikers in the first "Seward County Hike for the Hungry" on May 4, 1969. Two motorcyclists led the way up and down hills and through the rain from Seward High School to Garland and back to Concordia. Although the policemen and other Seward parents brought back many tired out hikers, who had gone as far as they could, three hundred and fifty finished the full twenty-five mile hike. The hardearned money will be used to help feed the many hungry people in our world.

CAMPUS CENTER

The central focal point of the whole campus is the Campus Center. Students eat, sleep, study, play, and get to know other students in its peautiful atmosphere. Among its many uses are also such activities as organizations' meetings, coffenouses, dances, piano-playing, and even a birthday party for Dean Dull.

GRADUATION

The class of 1969, the 75th graduating class of Concordia Teacher's College, received their degrees on May 31st in the new gym. Dr. William Kramer, Superintendent of Schools for the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod, addressed the class, challenging them to meet the world into which they now graduate. The 335 seniors and their friends and relatives also witnessed the presentation of several special awards and degrees, including the Honorary Degree of Dr. of Letters presented to Rev. A.O. Fuerbringer.

This is not the end.
It is not even the beginning of the end.
It is rather the end of the beginning.
—Winston Churchill

THE SENIOR YEAR

As the final year in college unfolds, student Miriam Mueller thinks beyond graduation to a future life that may well carry her far from CTC. Although the Senior year is a busy one—filled with packing and unpacking before and after student teaching, working on campus, and the headaches of that last registration—all the pains and gripes are far outweighed by the joy of student teaching and the anticipation of the finale to the years, Graduation. And then it's into the classroom!

Tragedy struck the Concordia family again this year when separate auto accidents took the lives of two members of the Junior class, Gary Sunderman and John Mueller. Gary met his death while on his way home for the Thanksgiving holidays. John and his sister Miriam were on their way to the baptism of their sister's child when an auto accident took him to his eternal home.

These unexpected events initially caused a measure of shock and sadness. Memorial services for each of the young men focused on the greater measure of trust and hope that grow out of such experiences for the Christian. Concordians were reminded that in even the most enigmatic situations God's immeasurable grace abounds.

FOOTBALL...

The hustling Bulldogs ripped into their opponents, throwing passers for losses, gang tackling halfbacks and snaring aerials for interceptions. Beginning with a basic five man defensive forward wall, Coach Wacker stunted his tackles, ends, noseguard and linebackers in an effort to confuse the offensive lines of Concordia's hapless foes. Designated by terms such as Monster, Rip, Okie, Delaware, Bloodynose and Lightening, these stunts and defenses gave the Bulldogs over thirty variations on defense. The offense, essential for scoring and giving the defense a rest, did just that this season. Behind the fine passing of R. Gieselmann, the powerful running of J. Widyn and the hard-nose blocking of scrappy H. Voelker, the Bulldog offense moved the ball better than it has in recent years here at Concordia.

Much credit must also be given to a small, but tough and competent offensive line. Using the new "scramble block" the line was able to open holes in defensive lines considerably larger than they. This type of block is designed to help a smaller lineman overcome size differences with quickness. This offensive team will remain almost intact, losing only Howard Voelker and Bob Douding to graduation.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Bulldog cross country team, under the leadership of Coach Stan Brassie, closed out their season with a 3-2-1 dual record. Ron Bork voted Most Valuable Player, finished 4-2 in duals, 4th at Doane, 2nd at Wesleyan and in a tie for first at Conference. Returning lettermen next year include: W. Woolery and F. Visser, both voted Most Improved, R. Van Andel, R. Smallwood, T. Lutz, and R. Bork. Although this was the best season in the school's history for cross country, Coach Brassie is anticipating an even better season next fall.

SWIMMING...

Coach Jim Young's dogfish experienced an up and down season this year but came out on top with a 6-5-1 record. The bulldogs boasted the strongest team in the history of the school. The "dog-paddlers", captained by Jim Landon, captured 5 dual and 5 championship records this season.

Tim Schwan set new records in the 200, 500, 1000 and 1650 yard freestyles. Steve Koenig captured the 200 yard breaststroke record and Chuck Root set a new 100 yard butterfly record. Mark Meschke showed good form as he reset his records for 1 and 3 meter diving. The highlight of the year featured the breaking of the 400 freestyle relay record by Landon, Kellog, Schwan and Russell.

BASKETBALL...

Even though the Bulldogs did not have a win loss record of which they can brag, they have gained poise, experience, desire and depth which is so necessary to ball_teams Concordia has an exceptionally young team, and it will be hampered next year by the loss of only one Senior, co-captain Kent Jones. Next year CTC will have a team of well seasoned ballplayers, who have the ability and confidence it takes to win ballgames. The Bulldog team, as well as the CTC fans, can look forward to an exciting and profitable basketball season. We cry again, "Just wait till next year!"

BASKETBALL...

The 1968-1969 basketball season was for the most part full of disappointment and aggravation for the players, coaches, and the fans of CTC, with the cagers finishing the regular season of play with a win-loss record of 1-21. Among the disappointments and aggravations were injuries to players Art Greve, Lloyd Pooker, Brian Naber, and Kent Berkeland, as well as the numerous losses of close games.

Kent Jones and Jan Lohmeyer were the playmakers for the "Hustlin" Bulldog" team, with Art Greve and Steve Schrader working the boards. The rebounders had quite a job this year, since no man on the team was over 6'4". Tom Raabe was undoubtedly the most outstanding individual scorer on the team, as well as in Concordia's history. Being only a sophomore, Tom broke many CTC scoring records including the most points scored in one season, the most career points, and the most points scored in one game. Tom's high scoring game was 43 points.

WRESTLING...

Concordia's grapplers started the season with high expectations and despite setbacks of personnel losses, were able to establish an impressive 6-3 record in dual competition. Paul Bickel was voted as most improved wrestler.

The enthusiasm and determination of Coach James Wacker, along with individual efforts of the team, resulted in a successful season.

STUDENT The SENATE campus has its own built in amplifier-Student Senate. Receiving problems through class representatives, the Senate made its voice sound forth and solved such problems as the revision of the dress code which was channeled to Men's and Women's Council and the transfer problem whereby Senate initiated the election of Junior transfers to Senate this year. Communication also became more pronounced as the student-faculty forums were sponsored. "The Senate looked for big things this year," someone said, and they certainly proved this when Student Senate sponsored the Lettermen and the Brothers Four.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL Striving for interaction among our women students, Women's Council promoted a feeling of unity through the Big and Little Sis Get-Acquainted parties the first week of school. However, social functions were not the only times for fellowship as devotions provided an opportunity to worship together. Serving others became the focal point as the women witnessed through an Ambassador for Christ weekend, sponsored a Korean orphan and made clothes for Vietnamese children. Closer to home, Christmas cheer baskets were made for families in Seward.

Emilie Meyer, President; Lou Aadland, Alana Althage, Noreen Brodersen, Linda Burse, Janet Busse, Sharon Collins, Sandy Crossman, Linda Ehrichs, Loraine Einspahr, Vicki Faller, Donna Felzien, Lexine Fink, Doris Finnigsmier, Norma Fischer, Sylvia Garling, Judy Gerken, Ellen Grever, Rhoda Haak, Kathy Haar, Barb Hartmeister, Ann Herrmann, Susie Hollrah, Bev Johnson, Cheryl Kahle, Sandy Kanter, Annette Kirschenmann, Linda Klute, Joyce Kruger, Dotty Kruse, Linda Kuhl, Judy Langemeier, Sharlene Lawrence, Nance Leising, Liz Luttmann, Paula Manz, Ruth Marl, Janet Mayer, Kathy Meier, Chris Meyer, Carol Miller, Sharon Moore, Sharon Oetting, Julie Parkhurst, Ardith Piehl, Dianne Rhinehart, Leslee Roggatz, Sally Rudy, Carol Schulz, Nancy Schwab, Andrea Schwartz, JoAnne Smith, Jean Stueck, Pam Thomale, Christine Ude, Jo Ann Vetter, Irene Weiand, Lynette Wilson, Marelyn Wincentsen, Gail Youngblood.

MEN'S COUNCIL Under the leadership of President Don Romsa and advisor Dean Charles Dull, the Men's Council, together with Women's council sponsored a Halloween party and organized visits of the Bloodmobile units. The main feature of the year was the all campus talent show, held under the auspices of MC's Rich Hoffmann and Larry Lottmann. The performers and groups of the evening were judged by the audience on originality and ability. Because of the large number of interested entrants, a delegation of professors and students previewed the acts and chose nine of them to perform in the show.

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS AND CONSTITUTION COMMITTEES CTC students who found Chemistry, Logic, or Shakespeare a little more of a challenge than they felt they could handle, turned to the Academic Affairs committee for help. Committee members were responsible for arranging for personal tutors for those Concordians in need of academic assistance. This Senate committee also concerned itself with other academic matters, working especially with the idea of a dead week before finals. They accepted and studied numerous suggestions from fellow students and from faculty members about the advisability of maintaining a dead week, about a possible name for it, and about the different ways it could be organized.

Once every two years, the constitutions of the student body and all its organizations are reviewed. Again this year the Constitution Committee functioned in this capacity. The constitutions were studied and brought up to date, helping the organizations to become unified by making them reexamine their purposes. The committee met regularly during the school year and is a subcommittee of Student Senate.

Marcia Moehlman, Chairman; Jane Briggeman, Nancy Theiss.

Bob Riggert, Chairman; John Elmshauser, Wayne Grauman, Mark Press.

NOMINATIONS AND ELECTIONS As nominations were completed, candidates put up posters and the general excitement mounted, few students were giving very much thought to the work which went on in the background to make the elections possible. Represented by members from each class, the Nominations and Elections Committee was responsible for publicizing all elections in advance, making sure all the rules were followed during voting, and counting the ballots as the results came in.

Roger Henning, President; Carolyn Ahrns, Ric Cash, Ruth Goldammer, Andy Grzeskowiak, Paul Hill, Marti Krueger, Eunice Young.

Dave Koopman, Chairman; Del Harnisch, Roger Hohenstein, Dotty Kruse, Barb Mossman, Mary Rosenthal, Karen Rubin, Tim Schwan, Gary Teske, Luther Klenke, Director.

CAMPUS CENTER COMMITTEE This academic year marked the enrollment of Concordia's Campus Center in the Association of Student Unions and Campus Centers. In February, respresentatives from the Campus Center Board Visited Doane College's Student Union to discuss the structure and programs carried on by each campus's facility. One of the chief purposes of the visit was to exchange ideas on how each board was operated and how each might be put to more effective use.

Asserting that physical activity makes strong bodies, alert minds, and creates new friends and leaders, the council organized both men's and women's seasonal sports activities to provide all students with a chance to benefit from athletic participation. President Bob Ohlrich guided the various team managers in arranging leagues and scheduling games and matches. Teams, organized within classes, sought victory throughout the year to accumulate sufficient points toward the coveted All Sports Award. Besides the usual football, basketball, wrestling, softball, bowling, swimming, tennis, archery, track and volleyball, soccer was introduced this year. After a successful trial season, the sport became an official part of the regular intramural program.

Bob Ohlrich, President; Milt Brueggemann, Bob Dowding, Ruth Ermeling, Sandy Haerther, Wanda Hill, Rich Hoffmann, Karen Kahle, Devon Lark, Marilyn Marcinco, Linda Martinson, Marcille Metscke, Duane Miller, Kirk Mueller, Sharon Oetting, Ron Pawlitz, Carol Scheller, Ralph Tracy, Shirley Trimpe, Kathy Wohlers.

TOTE

SPIRITUAL LIFE A small group of students were representative of the entire student body and were divided into various subcommittees to assist in the planning of the campus Spiritual Life. One of the main concerns of the committee was to find a time for the daily chapel so that it might be more available for all students. Special all-campus devotions, using new and different forms of worship, were presented.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS, PUBLIC RE-LATIONS, AND ACTIVITIES COMMIT-TEES These three committees worked separately to establish a common goal — the improvement of campus life. Led by Steve Grupe, Activities members arranged an unprecedented variety of attractions, including such highly rated motion pictures as "Becket" and "To Kill a Mockingbird," and lyceums which featured the Olaeta Basque Village Festival, an Aeolian String Trio, and Paul Winter Contemporary Concert. Important on the social scene were a Christmas buffet, the Chancellors' dance, Orientation Week, and Snow Weekend. Hit recording stars, The Lettermen, highlighted Spring Weekend, while flick-ins and coffee houses rounded out a fun-filled year. Public Relations sought to maintain clear contacts between campus and community, its main project being compiling data for the '68-'69 Student Directory. Buildings and Grounds Committee was busy keeping campus beautiful, removing old posters, and installing mailboxes in the Campus Center. Its main function was cited as taking on "anything" not already under "another" committee.

STUDENT LUTHERAN EDUCA-TION ASSOCIATION Because teaching involves more than regular classroom work, SLEA sponsored many events to expose students to other aspects of Christian education. In November, a panel of five teachers talked to the group about their experiences during their first years of teaching. Other speakers included Dr. Holste, principal of the Lutheran School for the Deaf in Detroit, Michigan, who spoke on his work with deaf children, and Dr. Glaess, who spoke on "Professionalism in teaching." The group discussed the possibility of buying or renting an old house to be used as a youth center for social functions, or possibly, sex education.

CHI RHO Several committees with this group engaged in a number of varied projects. Some members of Chi Rho served as substitute Sunday School teachers when area churches needed them. Others spent an afternoon or evening each month visiting White Hall Children's Home in Lincoln, or an Old Folk's Home. Still others went to the Lincoln State Mental Hospital one Sunday evening each month to square-dance and talk with the patients there. In January, the group sponsored a Mission Emphasis week, with Rev. Heinicke from New Guinea as the guest speaker. In every way it can be, Chi Rho is a service organization.

GAMMA DELTA Members of this club have been given several opportunities to travel. Delegates have been sent to conventions and regional retreats in Columbus, Nebr., Lincoln, Nebr., Oklahoma City, Okla., and Junction City, Kan. Sports Days and Talent Festivals for Walther Leaguers, guitar sings, and forums in which the group was addressed by three ex-convicts have all been a part of the activities of Gamma Delta. Knowledge and service are the key words in the title and the activities of this campus organization, and spiritual growth is its main objective.

SIGMA GAMMA TAU Presenting programs of interest to Concordia coeds, Sigma Gamma Tau had a most successful year. Some of the highlights of the year were the Christmas Tea on December 8th, an outing to Lincoln and the Spring style show in March. Such programs as hair styling, student teaching experiences, and travel presented helpful hints and evoked enthusiasm among the girls at Concordia.

SALS This synodical organization has an established chapter on campus at Concordia, including one representative elected to the main board. SALS functions mainly as a "sounding board" between the school and the Board for Higher Education. As in the past, this year's program included a highly successful Inner City Program during which Concordia Students lived and worked in inner city ghettos during one of their vacations.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS Marching in the Homecoming parade, pasting up posters, and creating enthusiasm for the Humphrey-Muskey ticket took up the time of Young Democrats in the fall. Their agenda for the rest of the year included hearing nationally prominent speakers, hosting the State Young Democrat Central Control Meeting, and cosponsoring with the University of Nebraska a seminar with the State Unicameral. In April they sent one of the largest delegations in the state to the convention in Omaha.

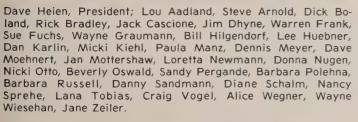

YOUNG REPUBLICANS "Campaign" was the main word in Young Republican circles this year. Throughout September, October, and part of November excited GOP supporters could be seen all over campus. In September they were privileged to have Nebraska Governor Norbert Tiemann at Concordia to help create enthusiasm for the Nixon-Agnew ticket. Even the Homecoming parade was not without a Young Republican float escorted by several ardent campaigners. On November 5th, the campus center was filled with concerned Concordians watching the election returns. The evening ended happily for Young Republicans with a victory party. In the spring they paid a visit to the State Legislature and sent delegates to the State Young Republican convention in Omaha.

HUMAN RELATIONS CLUB Keeping with its main purpose of improving relations among the races through information, the Human Relations Club arranged for unique campus presentations and offered CTC students various opportunities for social work. Highlighting the activities on campus were Ernest Chambers, Black Barber in the movie "A Time for Burning," who discussed Black Power, and Mr. Edward Cline, chairman of the Tribal Council of Omaha Reservation, who spoke on Red Power. Concern with race relations on the campus and in the community and church led the club to meet with the Ministerial Council of Seward churches to find out the areas of concern of race relations, discuss these topics and their applications by students and Seward residents.

SCIENCE ACADEMY Exploring the fascinating field of science, the Academy sought to involve all interested students in the activities. Members observed meaningful programs and helpful demonstrations by professors at the club meetings. Highlighting the year was the visit of E. B. Nelson, a nuclear physicist from the University of Iowa. During March, the Academy also sponsored a Science Fair. Kansas, Nebraska, and Iowa, represented by 84 entries, participated in one of 3 divisions; elementary, junior high, and senior high. A unique paper airplane contest offered students and professors alike ample opportunity to display outgrown prowess in miniature aviation. As a project, a demonstration table was placed in the lobby of the Science building.

concordia SPEAKERS Various areas of oral communication were explored by the Concordia Orators. Within the framework of expository speaking was Interaction, a program in which a panel of speakers went to congregations who invited them to discuss issues in the church. Hyde Park was a new innovation this year. Students met on Friday afternoons in the lounge of the Campus Center to hear interesting speakers and discuss campus and world affairs. Exchanges between Concordia and other area colleges provided learning opportunities in both expository and interpretive speaking. Readers' Theatre and oral interpretation enthusiasts added interesting dimensions to campus worship life through Chancel Drama.

LITERARY CLUB Early in the year, the Potpourri staff began making plans for the publication of their annual magazine. Potpourri has traditionally been a collection of Concordians' prose, poetry, and plays. However, several posters around campus announced that this year Potpourri wanted photographs and art work also. A trip to see the publisher in York, Nebraska was a must. He assisted the staff with the technical aspects of the magazine. In February, the staff met to select the literature that would be put in the magazine. Potpourri then went to the publisher and returned in magazine form for distribution in the spring. The Literary Club had no set membership this year, meeting only when students wished to discuss a particular movie or piece of literature.

Judy Withee, President; LaDon Bany, Beth Waterman.

CURTAIN Every committee necessary for a theatrical production is included in Curtain: makeup, props, costumes, lighting, sets, publicity and tickets. This year, members of these committees have used their talents to produce a series of one-acts, beginning with "Infancy" and leading up to "Endgame", which study society's effect upon man from birth till death. The largest production of the year, the children's play, "Trudy and the Minstrel", kept actors and committee members working for weeks. Curtain members are delighted with "The Platform", their new home in the basement of the music building, and are looking forward to producing more plays there.

CAMERA CLUB Camera fanatics were able to pursue their hobby by participating in the Camera Club. Programs centering on photography were presented at the meetings held twice a month. Many of these programs include films or slide shows, which are furnished by the Kodak Company, Sample's in Seward, Professors, or members of the club. The annual money-making project involved the printing and selling of Christmas cards that featured winter scenes of the campus taken by club members. Other projects included occasional presentations of student photography and an annual picnic.

COUPLES CLUB One of the problems faced by married students at Concordia was that of finding housing for the school year. In addition to supplying helpful information of this type to married students, the club provided a chance for couples to have fellowship with other married students. Volleyball and basketball games, and suppers were some forms of activity utilized by this organization during the past year.

A CAPELLA Dr. Paul Rosel resumed the direction of the A Cappella Choir after his 1967-68 Sabbatical leave. In December the sixty voice group combined with thirty instrumentalists from Concordia Band and Orchestra, and the Lincoln Symphony, to glorify the birth of the Savior in the annual Christmas Concert. Featuring guest soloists, Professor and Mrs. William Galen and Arnold Schatz, concertmaster of the symphony, the programs highlighted excerpts from Handel's "Messiah" and Dr. Theodore Beck's "Venite Adoramus". To honor the 150th Anniversary of Silent Night, the familiar carol was presented in its original form. Focal point of the year was the twelve-day Concert Tour of the West Coast in January. The 4000 mile journey entailed seventeen concert appearances throughout seven states. Sightseeing included San Francisco's Chinatown and Fisherman's Wharf, Salt Lake City's Temple Square, Good Shepherd Lutheran Home in Terra Bella, and Dis-neyland and Universal Studios in Southern California. Special presentations on the program included a combined audience and choir number, "For All the Saints," and Con-cordia's Anniversary Hymn, "Measurable Growth — Immeasurable Grace," by Theodore Beck. Two final appearances at Weller Chapel completed an active and rewarding season.

KING'S MEN In their last year under the direction of Professor Galen, the King's Men have greatly expanded their program. Formerly this male chorus sang only for worship services, chapels, and several other events in the immediate community. This year King's Men sang at the County Hospital and old people's home, and gave performances as far away as Omaha and Sioux City. King's Men also provided music for the coronation of our Snow Queen in February and gave an entertaining secular concert in the Spring. King's Men is an extra-curricular activity open to all interested male Concordians.

CONCORDIA SINGERS Twenty-five talented voices under the directorship of Professor Wesley Broderius, participated in worship services at Concordia. They celebrated the Festival of the Reformation with their presentation of the Bach Cantata, "God the Lord is Sun and Shield." Singers also enhanced worship in the Christmas Candlelight Service in December and the 75th Anniversary Celebration in January. Congregations in Kansas and Nebraska enjoyed Singer music-making in February, but the highlight of the year was the concert tour in April. Singers were privileged this year to travel to Florida and Nassau, where they sang to and worshiped with Negro parishes there.

Giesselman, sang for chapels and Sunday worship services and gave a Christmas and Spring concerts during the year. After the concert, the members were invited to Professor Giesselman's home for a party. This year Concordia Chorale decided to do more for the college than sing. In March they sponsored and participated in a HUB trip to Crete, Nebraska to gain support for Concordia.

FRESHMAN CHORALE Meeting twice a week under the direction of Professor Edmund Martens, the Freshman Chorale prepared anthems for Sunday worship services and chapels. This year's successful Christmas concert, "A Feast of Carols," presented by the Freshman and Concordia Chorales on December 13, featured carols from all over the world. The second semester offered the Chorale opportunities to sing for special services celebrating the 75th Anniversary of our college and the Dedication of David Dormitory. The secular concert in May was the major Spring event. The Madrigals, a group of 22 singers from the Chorale, performed special numbers for the concerts and events suited to a smaller group.

BAND Entertaiment was provided for the Student Body of Concordia by the Band under the directorship of Professor Arthur Fliege. Long, strenuous drills on the sometimes soggy football field readied the instrumentalists for their marching and playing performances at football games in the fall. Winter brought a switch to a symphonic setting and a secular concert on January 12. The Pep Band lifted student spirit at pep rallies, home basketball games, and at CIT in St. Paul, Minnesota. The climax to the band year was the 1 week tour in April through Colorado, Wyoming, and Kansas, concluded by a concert at Concordia on April 27.

PHI EPSILON ALPHA Under the sponsorship of physical education instructor Eunice Goldgrabe, Phi Epsilon Alpha is organized mainly for girls who intend to be PE majors and minors. With emphasis on physical fitness and the development of ability and cooperation, the group presented helpful lectures and forums throughout the year and supplied usherettes for the athletic activities. A program on movement fundamentals was one of the activities initiated for the benefit of the girls on campus.

The club not only provided entertainment for the student body by bringing in a professional women's basketball team to play against the faculty, they helped the athletic department by purchasing new weight lifting machines for the school. "C" Club is open to all Concordia lettermen.

PEP CLUB Acquisition of an authentic bulldog, Concordia's official mascot, highlighted a busy year for Pep Club. Meetings twice a month offered ample time to discuss spirit-making strategy, to uncover creative methods of cheering Bulldog athletes on to victory, and to offer unshakable support in the face of defeat. Under the auspices of President Martha Hrnciar, the girls decorated goal posts and raised necessary funds to finance transportation to out-oftown games. Led by the varsity cheerleaders, Pep Club sponsored a fall picnic, a winter sledding party, and a wrestling forum, as well as pep rallies and other efforts to activate hidden "hustle-bustle."

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

With this page the Editor of the 1968-1969 TOWER would like to take the opportunity to give recognition to the entire staff of this year's book. Special thanks go to the Assistant Editor, Andi Morlock; Section Editors: Lynn Weber, Lanette Landreth, Grace Mueller, Char Struecker, Luci Niermeier; Photography Staff: John Schramm, Ron Friedrich, Marty Wessler, Larry Veland, and Phil Hannemann; and Business Manager, Don Vogler. No one can realize the endless hours of planning and work volunteered by these people so that Concordians can receive the TOWER. Great appreciation and thanks are given to Professor R. Wiegmann for the many hours he spent as advisor to the staff. Without his talent and efforts the book would not be possible. It is hoped that the student body will join in the recognition and appreciation of those working for the TOWER staff.

Those fleeting hours

The rhythm of tiny feet taps out the fleeting hours of childhood.
The procession quickens into youth, maturity, retirement.
A life has been lived.

The thoughtful man plucks a portion of time from out the fleeting hours and leaves it behind as a symbol of his concern for those he loves.

Life insurance from Aid Association for Lutherans is such a symbol . . . a symbol of planning for the future. It is a mark a man leaves behind as a vivid reflection of someone who loved enough to prove it.
